The Colonist, Lex & Company.

THE TIMES is accused by the Colonist in its Sunday issue of expressing non-musical ideas when criticizing the contention of "Lex" and itself, in what constitutes "residence," or "resident householder," within the meaning of the School Act. We fully appreciate the quagmire into which the Colonist has been led by its quondam, verdant legal advisor, who, in this instance, went up like a rocket and has come down only a burnt stick. No doubt the organ will view with suspicion anything emanating as a legal opinion from the same quarter in future. Try again "Lex," for if you are more studious you might not get plucked a second time. The Colonist knows full well that it has attempted to erect its superstructure of argument on a bed of quick sand, and notwithstanding the squirming and flapping of its burned wings, the cry of Hett! Hett!! will not save it from being engulfed in the maelstrom of public ridicule. How cunningly the liger of the Colonist tries a side-wind argument when he has been completely brought to bay on his pet defense? THE TIMES will again inform the Colonist that Mr. Hett had nothing to do with this discussion at any time, further than his name having been dragged into it by the Colonist, for the purpose of covering its own retreat. THE TIMES will now give the Colonist a dose of its own medicine, however ditasteful it may be to it. Surely it cannot object to take its own prescription.

Chief Baron Pollock, of the Exchequer, said, in delivering judgment in the case quoted by "Lex," viz, Attenborough vs Thompson: "There may be occasions on which it may be necessary to construe the word "residence" as meaning the place where a man resides with his family, but there are other cases in which it is not necessary so to construe words, which do not necessarily of themselves mean the place where he sleeps." * * * * "Now the object of the act was" (Bill's of Sale Act) "that information should be given where the person might be found, met with, seen and enquired of, and where parties might be quired of, and where parties might be quired of, getting the information they require." * * * * We only decide that the present description of it (residence) "is sufficient to satisfy the act." THE TIMES has no hesitation in asserting that there is not a legal gentlemen of standing in this city who will endorse the arguments advanced by the Colonist and "Lex" on this subject. THE TIMES contends that the franchise extended by our School Act cannot, and is not regulated by such opinions or decisions as is given in the case quoted, but is an "occasion" where the meaning of residence or resident would be construed differently as pointed by Chief Baron Pollock. According to Wharton's Law Lexicon "residence" means abode, by the same authority, abode, means "habitation or place of residence," and further on the same authority explains that "abode seems larger and looser in its import than the word "residence," which in strictness means the place where a man lives, i. e., where he sleeps or is at home."

THE TIMES reiterates that Mr. Hett's residence as a lawyer, in connection with the documentary details of his profession, and his residence as a voter for school trustees, are two distinct propositions, which is borne out by the authorities adduced, and "the confession and shame" which the Colonist in vain tries to lay at the door of THE TIMES has been turned to a gridiron of contempt for the opinions expressed by the Colonist, on which we will roast it until it will fail to recognize its own former self.

MARINE NOTES.

The ship Martha, Captain McPherson, 48 days from Hongkong, arrived in Royal Roads yesterday afternoon.

The Queen of the Pacific arrived from San Francisco this morning at 5:30, and left for the Sound during the day.

The W. H. Bessie, from Hongkong, arrived in Royal Roads last night with Chinamen and other freight.

The American bark, Alden Bessie, Captain O'Brien, 54 days from Hongkong, with general cargo and Chinese passengers, arrived in Royal Roads yesterday afternoon.

The Anderson Excursion.

The Ellen Anderson made an excursion to Roche and Friday harbors yesterday, returning to the city about 6:30 p. m. About fifty people availed themselves of the opportunity to breathe the invigorating ozone of the sea air of the straits. A sharpened appetite gave added zest to the excellent dinner provided. Captain Tom was ubiquitous in his efforts to make every one comfortable and happy.

HANLAN AT HOME.

How He was Defeated—His Total Earnings in Australia $40,000.

Edward Hanlan, the great oarsman of this city, says the Toronto Globe of the 12th, arrived home yesterday morning from Australia, where he has been for the past year. The ex-champion looked in excellent health. His long trip had evidently agreed with him. Mr. Hanlan, in speaking of his defeat by Beach, stated that when he first saw the course he said to himself: "If I am beaten anywhere it will be here." His thought proved true. When he rowed his last race with Beach, he said he did not feel in excellent trim as is usually the case. However, he would not back out from rowing, as some 100,000 people had assembled to witness the race. He had the bad luck to lose the choice of positions on the course in the toss-up, and the ex champion claims that the difference in the positions meant three lengths in the first three miles. The course was very crooked and the currents deceptive.

BEACH.

he said, was the best oarsman he had ever met. Mr. Hanlan describes him as "a fine, square, agreeable fellow." Beach has immense arms, with fine side and back muscles. In trim he turns the scale at 169 pounds. The Torontonian spoke highly of his treatment by the Australians. He had been entertained by them in royal style. Mr. Hanlan says his total earnings in Australia amounted to about $40,000, but he lost some in the race in which he had been defeated. After his last defeat the people of Sydney offered to back him to the extent of £5000 but he said he would return to Australia in about eighteen months. He will go into training for R. K. Fox's race with $3000 as first prize. Owing to his great many friends in Toronto who will occupy his time he will go to some small place and enter upon training. Mr. Hanlan was rather dubious as to whether he would in the future remain in Toronto or not.

Generals Grant and Lee.

General Grant, in his recollections of the surrender of Lee, says: When I had left camp that morning I had not expected the result so soon that then was taking place, and consequently was in rough garb, and, I believe, without a sword, as I usually was when on horseback on the field, wearing a soldier's blouse for a coat, with shoulder straps of my rank to indicate who I was to the army. When I went into the house I found General Lee. We greeted each other, and after shaking hands we took our seats. What his feelings were I do not know. Being a man of much dignity and with an impenetrable face, it was impossible to say whether he felt inwardly glad that the end had finally come, or whether he felt sadly over the result, and was too manly to show it. Whatever his feelings were, they were entirely concealed from observation; but my own feelings, which had been quite apparent on the receipt of his letter, were sad and depressed. I felt like anything rather than rejoicing at the downfall of a foe that had fought so long and gallantry, and had suffered so much for a cause which I believed to be one of the worst for which a people ever fought, and for which there was not the least pretext. I do not question, however, the sincerity of the great mass of those who were opposed to us. General Lee was dressed in full uniform, entirely new, and wearing a sword of considerable value, very likely the sword that had been presented by the State of Virginia; at all events, it was an entirely different sword from the one that would ordinarily be worn in the field. In my rough traveling suit, which was the uniform of a private, with the straps of a general, I must have contrasted very strangely with a man so handsomely dressed, six feet high, and of faultless form. But this was not a matter that I thought of until afterward. General Lee and I soon fell into a conversation about old army times. He remarked that he remembered me very well in the old army, and I told him, as a matter of course, I remembered him perfectly, but owing to the difference in years—there being about sixteen years' difference in our ages—and our rank I thought it very likely I had not attracted his attention sufficiently to be remembered after such a long period. Our conversation grew so pleasant that I almost forgot the object of our meeting.

Port Moody Gossip.

"Hardikanute" the Port Moody correspondent of the Montreal Herald says: Mr. Onderdonk's contract, continues to be carried on with unwonted energy, especially on the terminus section in the vicinity of Port Moody. As many gangs of men and Chinamen—a distinction between the two is here recognized—as can conveniently be kept to work upon the road, with steam shovels and long construction trains, are being kept at it incessantly, rain or shine, day and night, Sundays and other days, without intermission. If Onderdonk can complete his contract within the time to which he is limited by its terms and which expires in June next, it will be something marvelous. Then, as to the Dominion government's share of the work—the final tenders for certain engine houses were to have been in on the 24th May, and for iron piles to rebuild, in a great measure, the terminal wharf, to be in on the 14th. We hear that these several contracts have been let, but know not to whom. The thing has to be done at Ottawa; and the local press hereabouts seems chary as to spending money on telegrams to gratify the curiosity of its readers. A number of rail-laden ships are now long overdue at Port Moody; but all we know about them is that one of the squadron has come to grief and put into the Falkland Islands. Meanwhile, building operations about that place are being somewhat vigorously resumed; many new comers are daily arriving and there are more evidences of life about the place than there have been any time before during the last twelvemonth.

THE WIDE WORLD.

THIS DAY'S DESPATCHES.

King Alfonso and His Ministry.

Special to THE TIMES.

MADRID, June 22.—King Alfonso having determined to visit the cholera infected districts, although the ministry threatened to resign, immense crowds gathered on the streets on Saturday and made a demonstration in favor of the king and queen as against the ministry and the municipal authorities. The crowd becoming riotous the civil guard was called out and fired on the mob, who thereupon stoned the soldiers. Disorder continued throughout the night with slight abatement, but the crowd was finally dispersed. To-day it is reported that two workmen were shot dead and several were wounded. Many of the rioters were arrested; some of them have revolutionary proclamations in their possession. The king, after consulting with his ministry, decided to abandon the project of his tour and the ministry was reinstated.

Cholera Still Increasing.

Special to THE TIMES.

MADRID, June 22.—Three new cases of cholera and one death were reported in Madrid to-day. Saturday's returns from the infected districts are as follows: Madrid, 3 new cases, 4 deaths; Valencia City, 22 new cases, 10 deaths; Valencia province, outside city, 24 new cases, 11 deaths; Castillon de la Plana, outside city, 103 new cases, 37 deaths. Murcia City, 98 new cases, 39 deaths; adjacent towns, 142 new cases, 52 deaths; in remainder of the province, 85 new cases, 40 deaths.

MADRID, June 22.—Further official returns of cholera in the districts of Spain are as follows: Valencia city, 29 new cases, deaths 20; Valencia province, 380 new cases, 175 deaths; Murcia city, 68 new cases, 31 deaths; towns adjoining the city of Murcia, 146 new cases, 52 deaths; Carthagenia, 20 new cases, no deaths; Castelton Dela Pana city, 6 new cases, 3 deaths; Castelton Dela Pana province, 66 new cases, 47 deaths; Huesia province, 7 new cases, 3 deaths; in the town of Cienpazenlos, twenty miles from Madrid, 5 new cases, 4 deaths.

Grasshoppers in California.

Special to THE TIMES.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—California is suffering considerably from the ravages of grasshoppers. Specimens of the insects have been sent from several parts of the state to Professor Riley in Washington. He finds them to be the melanopius devastator and caloptenus differentiales. The last named is common to all parts of the land and seldom proves very destructive; while the other is peculiar to the Pacific slope and is probably doing at present much work of destruction. He recommends the use of coal oil pans, found so useful with the Eastern species and further refers California farmers to the remedies described in the reports of the Entomological commission as the best yet discovered.

The Suez Canal.

Special to THE TIMES.

SUEZ, June 22.—Traffic on the Suez Canal is now fully resumed. The interruption of mails by sinking of the great dredger is not so serious as was thought; seven mail boats succeeding in passing around the obstruction.

Paris Gossip.

PARIS, June 22.—A dispatch to the Temps from Honoi, says that Viceroy Hunnon, recently captured Lapvinh Phuoco, commander of the black flags, and that another chinaman had strangled Phuoco.

M. Vernon, Conservative, has been elected senator for Reunes, by a vote of 577 against 534 for the Republican candidate.

The Late Destructive Earthquake.

Special to THE TIMES.

SIMLA, June 22.—As the result of recent earthquake in Cashmere 3081 persons lost their lives. Seventy thousand houses were laid in ruins and 33,000 animals perished. An officer has been sent to survey the scene of the shocks.

Riel's Supporters.

Rev. Caleb Parker, attending the Methodist conference at Winnipeg, from Prince Albert, reports that Riel has many sympathizers among the white people of that locality. The agitators to obtain their rights, and who asked Riel to come from Montana, were from among both the Conservative and Liberal ranks, though the majority were from the former, who are more numerous around Prince Albert. Mr. Parker says General Middleton has now in his possession documents that will substantiate what he says. He believes Riel would never have dared to resort to arms but for the countenance received from the sources mentioned. The whites when they found the serious turn affairs had taken quietly dropped him. The reverend gentleman justifies the conduct of Col. Irvine, and says he received no orders to go to Batoche, and if he had both Irvine and Crozier as well as the police would have proved themselves good soldiers.

A Thirty Million Loan.

In the Commons at Ottawa on the 12th inst., Mr. Bowell moved concurrence of the House in the resolution authorizing the loan of thirty million dollars. He gave the following details of the amount required: Temporary loans in Canada and London, $15,819,671; capital expenditure as per estimates and supplementary estimate of 1884-5 and 1885-6, $6,979,663; the insurrection in the Northwest, $4,000,000; Canadian Pacific railway loan and subsidy, not including the proposed new loan, $5,750,000; the probable expenditure on account of railway subsidies, $2,500,000; total $35,049,334. He explained that the balance of the five millions would be obtained under the loan already authorized.

Sir R. Cartwright—What we want to borrow now is about four million?

Mr. Bowell—Yes.

Sir R. Cartwright—How is it proposed to provide for the proposed loan to the C. P. R?

Mr. Bowell—By issuing Exchequer Bills and handing them over to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, who will finance them.

Messrs. Blake and Cartwright asked questions, several of which were not answered, but information was elicited that it would be found that sixty-five millions had been added to the public debt within the past twelve months, irrespective of the twenty-five millions dollars refunded recently.

The resolution was concurred in, and a bill founded on it was introduced and passed through all its stages.

SETTLED AT LAST.

The Marquis of Salisbury Takes Office of Premier at Once.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, June 22, 4:30 p. m.—The difficulty concerning the formation of a new ministry has been fully settled and the Marquis of Salisbury assumes the office of Premier at once.

The Queen Trying to Effect an Arrangement.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, June 22.—Lord Ponsonby, the Queen's private secretary, called upon the Marquis of Salisbury at noon to-day. It is supposed that he was the bearer of another message from the Queen. During the conference of the Conservative leaders, which followed this visit, the secretary called again; this time in the royal carriage and had secured a talk with Salisbury. The endeavors of Her Majesty being, it is understood, to bring about an understanding between the Liberal and Conservative leaders that the former may continue in office or the latter take office and carry on the government.

The C. P. R. Resolutions.

Special to THE TIMES.

OTTAWA, June 22.—The resolutions proposed by the government granting aid to the Canadian Pacific railway, which passed through committee of the whole in the Commons on Saturday morning, were slightly amended. Those at first submitted by the government allowed the limit of the time of the bonds to be unlimited. The term was changed to fifty years and then they carried.

Big Bear on the Run.

Special to THE TIMES.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 22—Advices from Fort Pitt, N. W., June 20, via St. Anbenzie, N. W., 21, are to hand to 8 a.m. this morning. A courier, just in from Otter's camp at Stony Lake, reports Big Bear making for Hen Lake. All his braves have rejoined him. Otter will pursue him to Birch Lake. Otter has captured Yellow Sky and his band who say they were not with Big Bear. Had forty head of Robert Wylde's cattle in their possession. He admitted taking them from a ranch near Battleford, Strange's forces are still at Beaver river. Captain Bedson left with the vehicles this morning to meet Otter. McLean and the other escaped prisoners are expected here to-night.

Cattle Raiders.

Special to THE TIMES.

OTTAWA, June 22.—Advices from the Northwest frontier say that United States Indians, Grosventors, who have crossed over to take hand with Poundmaker and Big Bear are driven across the line by Stewart's corps. They are still hanging about the border and may yet give trouble after troops are withdrawn. It is believed that a large number of Canadian Assinaboines Indians have gone south with Grosventors. It is intended by the government to station mounted police along the frontier in future to prevent cattle raiders who have been so successful in their operations during the past year, from crossing over from Montana into Canada.

Sixteen Thousand Persons Involved.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, June 22.—Dispatches from Staffordshire say an order has been issued to reduce the wages of nail makers from twelve to twenty per cent. A strike is threatened against the proposed reduction. Should a strike occur it would involve fully sixteen thousand persons.

Conference of Musicians.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, June 22.—At a large meeting of musicians held in this city to-day, a resolution was passed in favor of the adoption of the French Poeth, 518 double vibrations, for treble.

Shortage in the Sugar Crop.

Special to THE TIMES.

DEMERARA, June 4.—The rainy season has begun. The sugar crop is expected to be below 1005 tons.

The need of check for preventing personal aesthetics is due to J. C. Ayer & Co., whose incomparable Hair Vigor is a universal beautifier of the hair. Harmless, effective, agreeable, it has taken rank among the indispensable articles of the toilet. To scanty locks it gives luxuriance; and withered hair it clothes with the hue of youth.

RUDOLPH RYAN died at Montreal last week of glanders. This is the second fatal case there lately. Several other cases have lately been reported, but none fatal.

IN Ohio it has just been discovered that the much despised English sparrow is a determined enemy of the locusts. Millions of locusts are devoured by the birds.

THREE quarters of the town of Grodno, Russia, including the government offices, and numerous churches, has been burned. The loss amounts to several million roubles.

GEN. ROSECRANS has happened upon fortunate days for himself. Just as he received the appointment of registrar of the treasury, with a salary of $4000 a year, a decision of the federal supreme court, touching certain land surveys in California, has brought him abundant wealth.

THE Nihilists in St. Petersburg are said to be seriously divided. A majority favor the abandonment of terrorism and making an effort to effect a revolution by pacific means. The anarchist leaders MORSEOTCH and LEVALENKA, have been arrested at Kieff, and a Jew named SOLOMON OVITCH, has been arrested for seditious practices at Kharton.

THE proprietor of a household article recently informed the publishers of a well-known daily and weekly newspaper of large circulation that the insertion of a small advertisement twice in the pages of their newspaper had brought it more than eight thousand enquiries. And yet some people are still wondering if newspaper advertising pays!

HOBART PASHA, who is, the Athenæum says, perhaps the only Englishman who has commanded squadrons or single ships in a war where torpedoes were used as offensive weapons, has contributed to Blackwood for June an article on "The Torpedo Scare," in which he relates his experience in the Black Sea during the Russia-Turkish war.

THE charges made against B. W. HANNA to prevent his being sent as minister to the Argentine Republic have fallen to the ground. The President declines to be influenced by them, and they have been proven to be the result of malice and falsification. MR. HANNA will qualify, receive his commission and depart for his position in the next few weeks.

THE Secretary of the U. S. Treasury formally announced recently the adoption of the distinctive features of the paper to be used for United States notes, bank notes and certificates recently recommended by the committee on that subject. The secretary also calls attention to the law providing a penalty against any person who has unlawful possession of any such paper.

IT is asked whether the British government propose to shirk responsibility for the debts incurred by GENERAL GORDON for the defense of Khartoum. The late GENERAL GORDON, it is well known, had recourse to paper money for the payment of his troops and other expenses, which it is claimed only had currency because it bore the name of GORDON, who it was believed represented the immense financial resources of the British Empire.

OH, Party! what fantastic pranks dost thou play with Political Man! In the reverse just sustained by the GLADSTONE ministry in England we see an alliance of the defenders of "our ancient Constitution" with a band of rebels whose avowed object is the disruption of the Empire! Not, let it be observed, in defence of a vital point of principle have the Tories and Parnellites fallen into each others' arms, for the vote on the Budget will practically have no effect on the present Parliament—nor, indeed, will it avoid a strong Reform majority being returned to the next. But merely for the sake of securing a party victory (sic!) the respectable Conservatives have allowed themselves to be dragged into a contemptible dodge by their unruly tail, whilst the Parnellites take a savage delight in uniting themselves with anybody or everybody who is "agin the government."

CANADA'S FISHERIES.

The report of the Marine and Fisheries department for the past year has been published, and from it much valuable information is gathered. The product of the fisheries ranks fourth in value of our natural products; agriculture being first, lumber, animals and their products being next. During the last calendar year the value of the fisheries was $17,766,404, an increase of $808,211 over that of the preceding year. Nova Scotian waters head the list with a total of $8,763,779, followed by New Brunswick with $1,694,560, British Columbia with $1,358,267, Ontario with $1,133,724, and Prince Edward Island with $1,085,618. Of the total product about one-half finds a market abroad, the export in the last fiscal year having been $8,591,654, but only five descriptions of fish are largely exported, the proportion of the catch to the amount sent abroad being as follows:

	Produce.	Exported.
Cod	$4,302,454	$3,835,200
Herring	2,645,447	712,541
Lobsters	2,351,559	1,196,560
Mackerel	1,826,681	906,386
Salmon	1,357,727	1,023,891

The codfish, which constitutes one-fourth of the whole catch, is obtained principally in the waters of Nova Scotia, where the product last year was $3,528,363, Quebec yielding $672,060, and New Brunswick $217,098. Less than one-ninth of the codfish are consumed in Canada, the largest market for it being found in the West Indies, those islands purchasing to the amount of $2,079,286, while the U. S. took $712,298, Brazil $306,789, Italy $247,051, and Portugal $119,795. Herring, which ranks second in value of the fisheries, is mainly consumed in the country, the export being only one-fourth of the yield, or $712,541, of which $441,015 goes to the United States, and $230,000 to the West Indies. Lobsters are obtained most largely in New Brunswick, the yield there being $900,580. Nova Scotia produced $812,637, Prince Edward Island $520,398, and Quebec $118,242, and one-half the catch found a market abroad, wholly in Great Britain and the United States, the former country taking $719,176, and in the latter $586,808. Mackerel, obtained principally in Nova Scotia, is also exported to the extent of one-half the catch, practically the whole of it going to the United States, which country purchased $818,250, out of a total value of $905,387 sent out. Of the salmon catch amounting to $1,357,727, only $334,000 worth was consumed in Canada, Great Britain taking $680,758, and the United States $297,368. This province possesses the most valuable salmon waters, the value of the yield, irrespective of that caught and consumed by the Indians and the home market, being $936,855. New Brunswick shows only $219,785.

ANOTHER BANK DEFAULTER.

A MR. SCOTT, teller of the Manhattan Bank, New York, recently robbed that institution to the extent of $160,000 and then fled to Canada, where the detectives are now hot foot in pursuit of him. A few days since we referred to the asylum this country offered to bank swindlers and other defaulters, and the necessity that existed for an enlargement of the extradition treaty so as embrace the capture and surrender in either the United States or Canada of such criminals as are now enabled to escape scot free and live in luxury on their ill-gotten gains. The New York Herald, in dealing with the subject, says:

"The fact that a bank has no safeguard but honesty against theft by its officers is due to the lack of a proper extradition treaty between the United States and Great Britain. A teller may put a million dollars in his pocket, and leave the bank after the close of business without suspicion. He goes to the Grand Central depot, takes the evening train, and reaches Montreal the following morning. His flight is not suspected, nor the stolen money missing until he is safe in Canada, beyond the reach of our criminal process. In this condition of the law it is true that a bank has no protection but honesty against theft, and the ease and certainty of escape present a temptation that is a severe strain on honesty. But with an extradition treaty providing for the surrender of a criminal there would be an effective safeguard against dishonesty. No bank teller will commit a theft today which must be discovered tomorrow if he knows that arrest, conviction and imprisonment as a felon in State Prison are certain to follow quickly upon discovery. If embezzlement, stealing, etc., were extraditable offences the fugitive would no more escape our criminal law in Montreal than in Chicago."

THE Catholic Review suggests that the Douay Bible should now be revised. A revision or retranslation of the Scriptures by the most capable scholars of the Roman Catholic church would be of absorbing interest to all who read the Bible in English.

FATE.

[Owen Meredith.]

Long ere the child hath left its mother's knee
The web of the man's character is spun;
Those future paths, no living eye may see,
Ere life's beginning were by Fate begun;
And all the living do and all they be,
Proceeds from what the dead have been or done,
For Fate hath no finality on earth.

Justice in Morocco.

[Tangiers Cor. Boston Herald.]

The bashaw was seated, cross-legged, in one corner of the room on a raised brick dais. He was dressed in a gaudy-colored, gold-embroidered tunic, reaching to his waist, the familiar oriental large, baggy trousers, fastened at the knees, and the same inevitable white turban on his head. He holds an audience every morning of an hour or two with his subjects, who are at liberty to come to him with their grievances, complaints, petitions, etc. They state the circumstances, if they have been robbed, cheated or ill-treated; if they have committed petty crimes or misdemeanors of any kind, they ask to be forgiven, or that the punishment may be as slight as possible.

All tell their stories, make their complaints or confessions, and the bashaw passes judgment on some, and gives fatherly advice to others, as he thinks the case demands. He embodies all the dignity, powers and responsibility of a supreme court or a police court, of a judge and jury and of a Roman Catholic confessional. If Arabs have been detected committing crimes, and have not voluntarily appeared before this one-man tribunal, they are arrested and brought to the audience chamber with their accusers, and the bashaw, after listening to the statemen's and evidence of both parties, passes judgment as he deems the case requires, and the judgment is apt to be very severe.

Different crimes are punished according to their magnitude or insignificance. Some by the cutting off of a hand or a foot or an ear, by the cutting off of the nose close to the face, by imprisonment and public whippings, while for the most heinous crimes the public executioner, with his sharp scimitar, cleaves the culprit's head from his shoulders.

I afterward saw a hand and a foot exposed in the market place as a warning to the evil minded, and it was not an uncommon sight for me to see Arabs, Jews or Moors in the streets hobbling along on one foot and the stump of a footless leg, others with a hand gone and faces horribly disfigured by the absence of the entire nose.

Wanted, a Safe and Comfortable Stirrup.

[New York Sun.]

"The inventive talent of the country has not yet discovered a combination of perfect comfort with perfect safety in the manufacture of stirrups," said a down-town dealer in saddlery goods. "There is quite a variet in stirrups, however, and a number of patents have been issued on various changes in form which were supposed to be improvements. Among these is one called the jark stirrup. The new troop of Hussars in this city uses it. The bottom of the stirrup is hung on a pivot, so that it can turn down be hind, and pro ably throw the foot out in case the horseman should be unseated. The foot rest is very narrow. A new and much more comfortable stirrup for ladies' saddles is a metal slipper lined with satin, but if a lady ever falls from a horse without first extracting her foot from the stirrup her chance of escape will be very small.

"The ideal stirrup should have such a large foot rest that it would hold the entire sole of a man's boot, and yet free the foot instantly if the rider were thrown. The cowboy stirrup, made of a bent hoop of hickory nearly two feet long and six inches wide, is probably the best made, but its appearance prohibits its use in civilized communities. It seems to me that making a stirrup in the shape of a hoop is a fatal practice, but no one has yet offered a better shape."

How a Famous Song Was Written.

[Philadelphia Press.]

Dexter Smith had previously written a song that was very popular, "Ring the Bell Softly, There's Crape on the Door," and experience taught him that "catchy" words, a simple, lively air, and a good title were necessary to make a song popular. The publishing house of which he was a member was just starting in business, and he was anxious to advance its interests.

He was looking about him for a theme upon which to base a song, and one summer night, whilst strolling through the streets of Boston, he passed a house on the steps of which was a little family party en oying the evening breeze. Just as Mr. Smith reached the group a curly-headed little girl put her arms around the neck of an o der sister, and, in a sleepy voice, said, "Sister, put me in my little bed." The phrase caught the song-writer's ear, and before he retired the idea was put into words

The Story of a Criminal.

[Detroit Free Press.]

A criminal who was About to be Executed on the Gallows Petitioned the Sheriff for Delay, but the Official properly Replied:

"You have been Tried, Convicted and Sentenced, and there is no Hope of Reprieve. A Delay would be Folly."

"But I want to make a Confession," said the Criminal. "I have Committed Several other crimes which the Public don't know of."

"Oh, as to that," said the Sheriff, "we'll Hang you on this Case and try you Afterwards on the Others."

Moral: But this was in Canada. In the states they would have no le pressed the murder case and have gone for him for stealing chickens.

An Organ That Sounded Like Thunder.

[London Truth.]

A most remarkable organic effect was produced in Beverley the other day. Whilst the organist of the minster was trying the effect of his thirty-two feet pedal pipes, three feet six inch diagonal, in Haydn's "Creation," the dogs and cats in the houses surrounding the minster were so seriously discomposed with the thunder of the organ pipes as to creep into dark places to avoid the lightning, evidently conceiving that a great atmospheric storm was going on.

Cleverly Caught.

[Harper's Bazar.]

Customer—I can't pay you to-day. You see, the shoemaker has just been here, and—

Tailor—Yes; I met him on my way up, and he said you'd put him off because you'd got to pay the tailor to-day. So here's your bill, sir.

Limited Suffrage.

[Cleveland Plain Dealer.]

Professor Swing, the noted Chicago preacher, is in favor of not allowing anybody to vote who cannot show up at least $500 worth of property. This would have ruled out Christ and all the apostles except Judas.

Tribute to Alexander H. Stephens.

[Youth's Companion.]

Others eulogized the dead statesman in eloquent words, but the most expressive tribute came from the clicking utterance of a former slave:

"Mars Alec was kinder to dogs than most people are to folks!"

FOUR GREATEST GENERALS.

From a Canadian Standpoint—What Sherman Said—Grant as a Commander.

[Montreal Gazette.]

The four greatest generals produced by the great civil war in the United States on the national side were Grant, McPherson, Sherman and Sheridan. One of the most pleasant memories of American history is, and will forever be, the fact that between these four great commanders there was never the shadow of jealousy or envy. It is the highest honor that Grant ever received from men's judgment of admiration that these three able captains all willingly and always looked up to him as their superior.

McPherson fell in battle before the splendor of his abilities could attract the world's attention, but in his death Grant, as he declared, lost one of the greatest—perhaps the very greatest—of his lieutenants. Sheridan, as is right of his Irish blood, had the fiercest spirit in battle; Sherman the greatest invention in council, while McPherson could fight with the one and plan with the other; but they all admitted, because they knew and felt, that "the silent, gray-eyed man" was greater than they. "Why," I asked Gen. Sherman once, "did you and Sheridan always acknowledge Grant to be your leader?" "Because," he responded in his quick, idiomatic manner, "while I could map out a dozen plans for a campaign, every one of which Sheridan would swear he could fight out to victory, neither he nor I could tell which of the plans was the best one; but Grant, who simply sat and listened, and smoked while we had been talking over the maps, would at the end of our talking tell us which was the best plan, and in a dozen or two words the reason of his decision, and then it would all be so clear to us that he was right that Sheridan and I would look at each other and wonder why we hadn't seen the advantage of it ourselves.

"I tell you," he continued, after a moment's pause, "Grant is not appreciated yet. The military critics of Europe are too ignorant of American geography to appreciate the conditions of his campaigns. What is it to march an army from Berlin to Paris? Look at the multitude of roads. Look at the facilities of transportation. Consider how many times the same ground has been fought over by successive commanders. Is not every point of vantage known? What commander can blunder where all the conditions lie open to his eye? But I have seen Grant plan campaigns for 500,000 troops along a front line 2,500 miles in length, and send them marching to their objective points, through sections where the surveyor's chain was never drawn, and where the commissariat necessities alone would have broken down any transportation system of Europe, and three months later I have seen those armies standing where he said they should be and what he planned accomplished; and I give it as my military opinion that Gen. Grant is the greatest commander of modern times, and with him only three others can stand—Napoleon, Wellington, and Moltke."

In the Dissecting-Room.

[Syracuse Standard.]

In the spring of 1878 I entered the college green in medical knowledge. I was taken up to the dissecting-room soon after I matriculated. Of course I had heard about the ghastly scenes of this veritable chamber of horrors, but I had steeled myself not to give expression to any of my feelings of surprise or disgust. The boys, who have seen courage simulated before, tested me by stuffing my coat pockets full of dead men's ears, fingers and toes, and other cheerful fragments while I was not looking, and one impious wretch who was calmly eating his luncheon pretended to use a slice of human cheek for the meat in his sandwich. The deception was as real as it was horrible.

I passed through the ordeal unflinchingly, but I can assure you it was not unaccompanied by sundry qualms of stomach. In the course of time I became somewhat familiar with the scenes, and before the summer vacation I was thoroughly hardened.

The Authorship of "Jane Eyre."

[Exchange.]

Charlotte Bronte innocently "gave away" her own identity in connection with the authorship of "Jane Eyre" by saying to a fellow author: "I was so obliged to you, Mr. Horne, for sending me your ——." She checked herself with an inward start, but it was too late and having thus exploded her "Currer Bell" secret, identified herself with the author of "Jane Eyre." Horne had sent "Currer Bell" a copy of his "Orion" under cover of her publisher.

Blood Under the Microscope.

[Interview with an Expert.]

As between human blood and dog's blood, the microscope enables the expert to determine precisely whether a specimen is from a human being or a dog. But it is impossible to determine between human blood and a hog's blood. This fact convicted one man that I know of. He claimed that the blood on his clothes was dog's blood. I was able to show that it was not dog's blood; but if he had said that it was hog's blood I could not have contradicted that statement.

Scrawled Signatures.

[Cleveland Leader.]

The name of a person is something that the editor, printer, or proof-reader cannot guess at successfully. If there are any words in the copy prepared for the press by correspondents carelessly and illegibly written, they are, in two-thirds of the cases, proper names. If there is anything that makes an individual mad it is to have his name mispelled or distorted into something else, yet in ninety-five instances out of 100 it is the fault of the person writing the name.

A Fact in Physiology.

[Medical Record.]

It is no doubt true that both men and women of distinguished intellectual talents and who are active brain workers, are liable to be childless or to have but few children. The world would soon be depopulated if it were filled with persons of great intellectual stature.

Structure of the Pyramids.

The opinion is entertained now by many men of science that the art of making artificial stone for structural purposes is prehistoric, and that the pyramids were, in fact, built of artificial blocks manufactured from the surrounding plain.

The One That Is Left.

[Josh Billings.]

There is lots ov pholks in this wurld who kan keep nine out ov ten ov the commandments without enny trouble at all, but the one that is left they kant keep the small end ov.

Mounds resembling those of Ohio exist near Kaigan, China, and in one has been found a stone hatchet which is said to be indistinguishable from those shown as the work of the "mound-builders" of ancient America.

A Highbinder in Gaol.

At noon, when the police court was in session a big Chinaman was brought in on a charge of assault. He at once threw himself on the floor and began a hideous moaning, and was at once ejected. The officers carted him off to gaol, where he now is. The charge against him is not yet made out by the complainant; but it is understood that the prisoner is the second chief of the Highbinders, and that he was attempting to take the life of another Chinaman shortly before being arrested. He drew a dagger on his intended victim, and when that proved ineffectual he pulled a pistol, which, however, he did not discharge. This is the story current at the hour of writing, but like all Chinese cases, it is difficult to get information. The prisoner was put in a cell, and has since torn every particle of clothing from off his body and kept up a continual howl. He appears crazy with "hoo choo," or some other vile Chinese compound.

THE C. P. R. ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

The Aggressive Policy Already Being Felt in San Francisco.

The announcement made by THE TIMES last winter that the policy to be pursued by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company on this coast was to be an aggressive one was laughed and sneered at by many who then were, and still are, incredulous as to the ability of that company to cope with transportation concerns already organized. The success which the C.P.R. has already attained in the east is the best proof of what it can accomplish in the future. Within the past two weeks it has created a perfect consternation amongst the western American roads leading to St. Paul and from that city to Winnipeg. The C.P.R. company have a through line of their own to the great northwest and the eastern portion of this province. They are desirous of thoroughly utilizing that line and taking every possible advantage of their position by diverting traffic over their own and affiliated roads. Lately the company inaugurated a new policy, in the system of conveying immigrants from Europe to the Northwest, which hitherto was entirely controlled by the American lines running from the Atlantic seaboard cities. In conjunction with the Allan line of ocean steamers the C. P. R. are to convey immigrants from Liverpool, Glasgow, etc., to Canada and the Northwest at unprecedently low figures. The effect of such a policy must be the diverting of the vast immigration hitherto pouring into New York to the St. Lawrence route in summer and over the Atlantic extension of the C. P. R. in winter. That the policy adopted by the C. P. R. company has made itself felt on this coast already is asserted by the following dispatch to THE TIMES from San Francisco:

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The announcement that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company proposes carrying immigrants for fifteen dollars from Halifax to Port Moody and twenty-five dollars from Liverpool to the Pacific ocean will oblige the American roads to modify their rates. The opinion here is that the Canadian Pacific will prove an active competitor for both east and west bound business.

MASONIC.

Annual Meeting of the Grand Lodge of British Columbia.

The annual communication of the Grand Lodge A. F. & A. M., of British Columbia, was held in the Masonic temple here on Saturday afternoon. There was a fair representation present of Grand Lodge officers. The following were elected to the various offices for the current Masonic year, viz.:

M. W. Bro.—Thomas Trounce, Grand Master.

R. W. Bro., W. Dalby, Deputy Grand Master.

R. W. Bro., A. R. Milne, Senior Grand Warden.

R. W. Bro., J. C. Hughes, Junior Grand Warden.

R. W. Bro., H. F. Heisterman, Grand Treasurer.

R. W. Bro., E. C. Neufelder, Grand Secretary.

V. W. Bro., Rev. Canon Dwyer, Grand Chaplain.

W. Bro., W. Trickey, Grand Tyler.

The address of the retiring Grand Master, M. W. Bro. E. Crow Baker, M. P., was read by the Grand Master elect. It was a very appropriate and comprehensive document, couched in Masonic language, and gave a general review of the business of the Grand Lodge for the past Masonic year. The financial report read showed the affairs of the Grand Lodge to be in a most flourishing condition. The benevolent fund now amounts to $6000. The Masonic temple here is free of debt and now yielding its projectors a fair dividend. Throughout the province the order is in a prosperous state; each of the subordinate lodges report an increase in membership. The following beside the ex-officio members, were elected a board of general purposes, viz: Bros. D. H. Ross, J. S. Clute, Eli Harrison, Henry Brown, Marcus Wolf and R. B. McMicking.

The Grand Lodge elected officers for the year, are:

V. W. Bro. D. H. Ross, G. S. D.
" " Ralph Craig, G. I. G.
" " I. Oppenheimer, G. D. C.
" " J. Miller, G. M.
" " Marcus Wolf, Std. Br.
" " E. J. Salmon, G. P.

The Grand Stewards are V. M. Bros. Cartinell, Rae, Proctor and Manson.

The members of Grand Lodge in full regalia, as well as many master masons, attended divine service yesterday morning at St. John's church, where an appropriate discourse was delivered by V. W. Bro. Rev. Canon Dwyer, to a full congregation. The musical services were appropriate to the occasion.

A Villainous Libel.

Nothing could be more contemptible than the conduct of the Colonist when driven into a corner in any discussion. Smarting under the castigation given it by THE TIMES a few days since, for its malicious, injurious and entirely uncalled for attacks upon the sanitary and moral condition of the city, our erratic contemporary retorts on THE TIMES by saying: "It must occur to everyone that THE TIMES by cloaking gambling dens and advertising one of the most notorious brothels on the coast as a first-class "family hotel" makes damaging attack possible and necessary."

THE TIMES neither cloaks gambling dens, nor does it advertise brothels as first-class "family hotels." We brand the statement as a deliberate falsehood and uttered by the Colonist as a slander on our hotel keepers, who are equally as respectable in their calling as is the editor of the Colonist. We defy the proprietor of that journal to point out a solitary hotel advertised in our columns as bearing the slightest semblance to his vile slander, and until he does so the public will again brand, him as he has been branded in the past, as a willful falsifier of the truth. THE TIMES considers its patrons equally as respectable as those of the Colonist. Mr. D. W. Higgins himself thought likewise when the other day he took advantage of its columns to reach the electors in Johnson street ward with his card for the school trustee election.

A Great Tragedienne.

The appearance at Philharmonic Hall on Thursday and Friday evenings next, of Januauschek, the great tragedienne, is an event of more than ordinary importance to Victoria audiences. Her impersonations in the dual role of Mico (or Leben) and Circe Encore are true to life, and her support is exceptionally good and every character well sustained. Mr. George D. Chaplain, as Frederick Ibsen, an American, and Miss Emma Hagger as Silvia Fortune, are conspicuous for their ease and life-like acting. Januauschek's popularity as an actress has not waned a particle with the public, and this season it seems to have reached its acme. On Thursday night "My Life" and on Friday "Zillah, the Fortune Teller," will be presented. In these two she finds her favorite characters, which call for the exercise of her most brilliant gifts and histrionic accomplishments. The trouble will be to find sitting room in the small hall.

LICENSING BOARD.

Some New Applications—The Charge Against the Royal Exchange.

The adjourned meeting of the Licensing Board was held to-day at 12 o'clock. Present—Mayor Rithet, E. Johnson, S. M., and Justices McLean and Morison.

An application was presented from C. West, asking that the license for the Merchants Exchange be transferred to C. Pagden. Granted.

An application from Mr. Walls that the license for the St. Nicholas Hotel be transferred from Jno. McCartney and Jos. Vernor to John McCartney. The change was simply the dropping of one of the names, owing to a dissolution of partnership. Application temporarily granted, and to be again brought up in regular form at next meeting.

The complaint of Geo. A. Newman against the Royal Exchange saloon, kept by Henry A. Czarske, made at last meeting of the board, was then taken up. The complainant alleged that disturbances were of weekly occurrence and that on the 10th of May loud screaming issued from that premises and that a woman had to be taken down from the verandah in her night clothing. Mr. Walls appeared for the defence, and in stating his case said that the disturbance was due to the unfortunate condition now and then of the wife of the saloonkeeper. The woman was subject to hysteric and he read certificates from two medical men in proof thereof.

The husband was sworn, and said that his wife was subject to fits, at which times she would shout and scream. On the night referred to she had jumped out of bed and went through a window to the verandah where she made a loud noise.

The complainant swore that strange women resorted to the place, and he had seen them at the upstair windows. Some of them had been put out of Broad street brothels.

P. Carr corroborated the former witness in most points. He also had seen a good deal of drunkenness there.

Officer Houston said he had seen three prostitutes coming out of the house on the night of the 27th of May, and frequently saw drunken men in that neighborhood; he believed it to be a resort of disreputable characters.

Officer Shephard said that he was at the saloon during one disturbance about five months ago, when Czarske's hat and shirt were torn to pieces; had never seen Czarske intoxicated.

License to be granted temporarily, to be under the supervision of the police and if not conducted in an orderly manner in future to be cancelled summarily.

The chairman announced the decision of the bench to be that the license would be continued temporarily, and that the saloon would be under the surveillance of the police. If not conducted in an orderly manner in future the license to be cancelled. He said that Mr. Czarske was no doubt entitled to some consideration for the unfortunate condition of his wife, and this led the bench to take a very lenient view of the case.

Mr. Walls applied for a license for Mr. Vernor, at the Snug Tavern, which was refused at last meeting. He asked the board to rescind their former decision, and he presented a petition in favor of the license being granted. The opinion of the bench was that the case could not again be re-opened, and besides the policy was opposed to increasing the number of licenses in the city.

OUR CITY SCHOOLS.

Half-yearly Examination of James Bay School.

The half-yearly public examination of James Bay school was held to-day. There were presented the Superintendent of Education, Mr. S. D. Pope, and Messrs. Hayward, Higgins, and McMicking, of the School Board, and a large number of the parents of the scholars. The pupils were carefully examined by the Superintendent, who was pleased to find that they had made great progress during the term under the efficient teaching of Miss Story. One of the most pleasing features of the exercises was the distribution, to deserving pupils of a large number of prizes, the gift of the trustees. Mr. McMicking, the senior trustee for the ward, made the presentations, and accompanied each with a few suitable remarks, which were rapturously applauded by the happy and expectant pupils.

ROLL OF HONOR.

Alice C. Porter, for general proficiency.

Eda Emma Stannard, for good conduct.

Katie Walker, for regular attendance and punctuality.

Katie Walker and Annie Calder were a tie for regular attendance, neither having missed a day, but as only one can get the roll of honor card, their conduct was taken into consideration and Katie Walker being the highest was the successful pupil.

After the distribution of the prizes the pupils gave a number of recitations, as follows: J. Spencer, "Forty Winks;" J. Strachan, "The Flunesker;" E. Stannard, "The Vulgus Little Lady;" W. Wilson, "Going to School;" P. Northcote, "Mary had a Little Lamb;" J. Carrington, "The Oaks;" G. Ball, "Which Loved Best;" Mary Spencer and Josie, song, "Dirty Tim;" Celia Powell, "A Sad Loss;" Jane Strachan, ——; Charles Mallandaine, "Sailor Boy;" and R. Walker, "Swinging." The whole proceedings were of a most pleasing character, and fully illustrated the statement made at the board the other evening, that our schools are doing good work in educating the youth of the city.

Wholesale Immigration.

Three ships arrived in Royal Roads yesterday afternoon, having on board no less than eight hundred and thirty three Chinamen. The W. H. Bessie brought 432, the Alden Bessie 371 and the Martha 30. Adding the 91 brought by the Queen from San Francisco this morning, this makes the Chinamen arriving in Victoria in twelve hours the enormous number of 924. What is to become of the white workingmen of this province if this wholesale immigration continues, is not difficult to foretell. They will be driven out of the country.

The Fire Alarm.

The alarm of fire this afternoon was occasioned by an incipient blaze on the roof of a boat house across Rock Bay bridge. There was very little damage done.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

[While the columns of THE TIMES are open for the discussion of questions of public interest, to correspondents, it must be understood that it does not necessarily endorse, nor coincide with, the sentiments expressed by writers in this column.]

The Colonist and the Wellington School.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—One of your correspondents has well described the present state of the Wellington school to be a disgrace to the Province and to the educational authorities concerned. This has occurred under our present "live government," and while there is an overflowing treasury. A few years ago the same state of things existed in the same school but the provincial treasury was at that time as depleted as it is now plethoric. In spite, however, of the well known fact that the previous government had wasted the public funds to such an extent that nothing but the barest necessary public works could be undertaken by the succeeding government, the Colonist assailed that government and the then superintendent of education in the vilest terms for allowing such a state of things to exist at Wellington. It is but fair to draw public attention to the silence of the Colonist to-day on a precisely similar state of affairs now that another government and another superintendent of education are in office. It seems to make the greatest difference with the editor of that paper as to whose ox is gored, but I think he should be made to eat some of the dirt he threw in 1881, and be at least reminded now of the awful noise he then made.

WATCH-DOG.

POLICE COURT.

(Before Edwin Johnson, Esq., S. M.)

The dock was full of drunks this morning. M. Kates, Louis Freeze, Johnny, Charles Corvey, John Brown and Robert Colbert, all pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness and were fined $5 or one week each.

Frank Adams, vagrancy. Officer Walker, on being interrogated by the magistrate, said that he believed he was making his living by selling liquor to the Indians. Prisoner pleaded guilty to the charge of vagrancy and was fined $20 or one month.

Hong, a Chinaman, supplying Tom, an Indian, with liquor. Defendant, through the interpreter, stated that the Siwash had wrested the bottle of liquor forcibly out of his hands, and threw fifty cents on the floor in payment thereof. Officer Grant, and Tom, the Indian boy to whom the liquor was sold, sustained the charge by their evidence and Hong was fined $50 or three months.

George Edward Batho, charged with supplying an intoxicant to Jimmy Chickens, a Saanich Indian. Officer Lindsay testified that he saw the prisoner come out of a saloon and join the Indian, and following them he found a bottle of gin in the possession of the Indian. Jimmy, Jimmy's klootchman, testified that the prisoner bought the gin, for which he got 50 cents from Jimmy, and that the officer arrested them before they had time to pull the cork. Fined, $50 or 3 months.

Tom, an Indian, in possession of an intoxicant; charged withdrawn.

Jimmy Chickens in possession of an intoxicant, pleaded guilty and was fined $25 or one month at hard labor.

Samuel Shannon, Thomas, Victor and Andrew, the latter three Saanich Indians, charged with sleeping in out-houses and not having any visible means of support, or being able to give a satisfactory account of themselves. Shannon, a white man, admitted a part of the charge, but claimed that he had a visible means of support as he has been working all summer for Mr. Beak. The three Indians, who were all boys, said they had come in from Saanich, and having no money they went to the out-house in the rear of Harrisour & McAllister's store, on Johnson street, to sleep. The prisoners were discharged with a caution.

Geo. Stelly, summoned for an infraction of a city by-law; adjourned till to-morrow.
